Report:

Health and Blood Pressure Check-up Camp for Female Students

Introduction:

On 27th September 2018, College organized a Health and Blood Pressure Check-up Camp for its female students. The initiative aimed to promote health awareness and ensure the well-being of the students, addressing specific concerns related to hypertension, anemia, and general health.

Objectives:

1. To assess the overall health status of female students.
2. To screen for hypertension (H.B.) and anemia (R.B.C.).
3. To educate students about the importance of regular health check-ups and healthy lifestyle choices.
4. To provide necessary medical advice and interventions for students with identified health issues.

Camp Activities:

The camp commenced at 10.30 a.m and lasted until 1.00 P.M., accommodating 111 of female students. Trained medical professionals conducted comprehensive health screenings, including blood pressure measurements and blood tests for hemoglobin levels. Educational sessions were conducted to raise awareness about the risk factors associated with hypertension and anemia, emphasizing preventive measures and healthy living habits. Additionally, personalized consultations were offered to students with abnormal health parameters.

Recommendations:

1. Encourage regular health check-ups among students to monitor blood pressure and hemoglobin levels.
2. Implement health education programs to promote healthy lifestyle habits, including balanced nutrition and stress management.
3. Provide access to healthcare resources and support services for students with identified health concerns.
4. Organize periodic health camps to sustain awareness and monitor the effectiveness of interventions.

Conclusion:

The Health and Blood Pressure Check-up Camp served as a proactive measure to safeguard the health and well-being of female students at College. By identifying prevalent health issues and offering guidance on preventive strategies, the camp contributed to promoting a culture of health consciousness and empowerment among the student community.
